

Christmas 2014

Jamie and Lynn Foster

May we share with you these highlights of our activities this past year?! For all the pics, you can always check out this page of links: <http://jf2.com/lynx/> Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

January 2014

This is becoming the month of ACT plays at the SLO Little Theatre. This year it was Pinocchio. Interestingly, the girl in the background was one of Jamie's students when he taught at SLO Classical Academy.

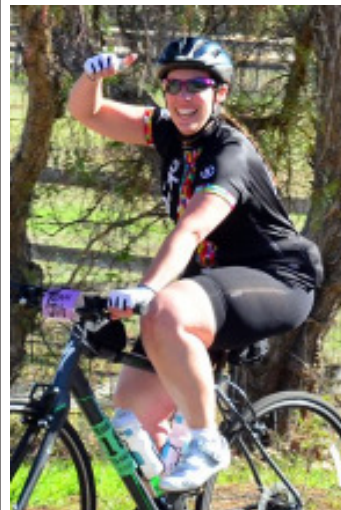

February 2014

Baby Shower for Jen! Abby can't be far away...

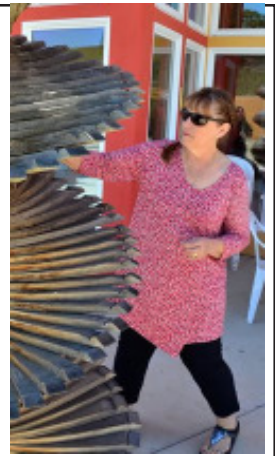

March 2014

Tracy and Janice biked in the Solvang Century while Lynn and Jamie visited wineries enroute, cheering them on all the while. After that, it was a big month for Matteo and Papa Jamie who took in a snake talk at the Museum, a ride on the Fillmore & Western, and a trip to the Exploration Station.

April 2014

Lynn and Jamie visited a few wineries up in the Paso Robles area. One is a small family start-up called Rasmussen. That was Jamie's step-granddad's name! Matt and Jamie took the older boys to Jurassic Quest. And then Easter, AJ's birthday, and Abby makes her first appearance at a big function.

May/June 2014

Lynn wrapped up her teaching career. Well, shifted to homeschool teaching anyway. And blueberry picking.

July 2014

The Kansans came to visit, participate in a triathlon, and share some good times, including some good times at Daou Winery hosted by Trevor and Jen.

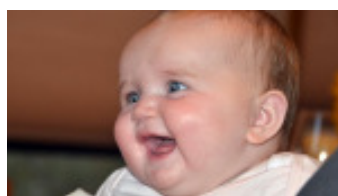

August 2014

Serafina plays in Cinderella at the Little Theatre. Lynn and Jamie joined the SMVRR's private car excursion to L.A. and visited the Huntington Library. Very cool place, go if you get a chance.

September 2014

Jen's Birthday! Abby steals the show. And a recital.

October 2014

Serafina joined the cast of Cuesta College's production of Dracula. And Jamie played Schmendiman in "Picasso at the Lapin Agile" at the SLO Little Theatre.

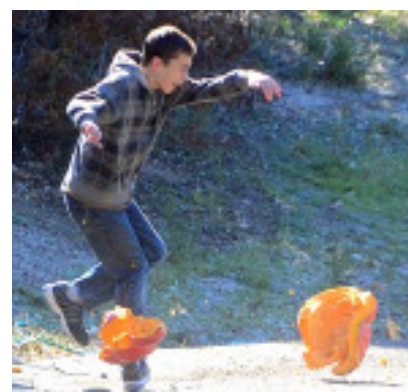

November 2014

Crazy fun at the park. And, oh, meet Sandy, Lynn's making good on her promise to get a dog right after she retires. Labradoodle.

Thanksgiving was just "usins" this year, plus a Nana and Papa run to Nipomo for breakfast with that gang to get the day started. Every part of the meal at the Compound had one or more of the four bigs helping.

And, of course, the Great Pumpkin Roll of 2014.

December 2014

We'll be off to Shaver Lake over the holidays, right after Serafina wraps up A Christmas Story at the Little Theatre.

